AREA ADMINISTRATOR

Issue No. 1 of The South West Genealogist is dated February 1990. The Editor was Doug Holmes, who continued in the role until No. 50, November 1994. To mark No. 100, Doug has written the Guest Editorial which is printed below.

The Area Resources Officers receive, catalogue, record and file all incoming items. They provide advice on resources already held, and on desirable additions. In short, they fulfil a very important role within our activities. The current officers, Lucy Toohey and Helen Price, have indicated that they wish to move on to other tasks as from the November Meeting. Two things follow on from this decision .....

1. we pass on our grateful than to Helen and Lucy for their very considerable contribution during their time in office - very well done & many, many thanks for your attention to the details.
2. we need to find new Resources Officers. Volunteers might contact the Area Administrator on 5562 0388.

The next issue of The South ~ Genealogist Number 101, will appear in early February 2000, prior to our meeting on Thursday 10 February. Accordingly, your editor wishes all readers the compliments of the season. May everything work out the way that you would wish, as you enjoy time with family and friends.

- Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year
Ray Welsford

GUEST EDITORIAL

Celebrating the 100th Edition

A Word from the Original Editor

I attended my first meeting of the Warrnambool Area of the A.I.G.S. Inc. in October 1989. Six members were present including the Guest Speaker and the holdings of the Area, including the fiche readers, fitted into one steel cabinet. How things have changed.

In November 1989 the Area Administrator, Noel Hallam, called a special crisis meeting at the Tourist Information Centre to discuss the future of the Area; do we close up shop or do we go on. Around 30 members turned up at this meeting and a fairly lively discussion took place with lots of suggestions put forward for discussion. Obviously it was decided to continue on as we are still here a decade later

Having returned to Warrnambool after some 20 years away and most recently from Wodonga where I had been the foundation secretary of the Wodonga & District Family History Society I put forward two suggestions to the meeting

1. That a local membership fee of $ 10.00 per annum be introduced
2. That an Area Newsletter be established

Both of these suggestions were adopted by the meeting and here we are with the 100th edition of The South West Genealogist which I feel is quite an achievement. Surprisingly there have only been four editors over this ten years, I did the first 50 editions followed by Lorraine who did the next 25. Ray Welsford took over and after a year took leave to perform Rotary duties before returning again this year. During Ray's absence Betty Beavis produced the newsletter.

The newsletter has been successful due to two special people who over the life of it have kept producing material for inclusion edition after edition. Betty Beavis and Mane Boyce have produced the bulk of the articles and information published and without their support it would be quite difficult for the editors to keep coming up with material to publish. Thanks Betty & Marie: your contribution has been priceless. Over the years other members have also contributed articles and I would like to think them also for their support; without it we wouldn't have a newsletter.

Finally on behalf of the Area I would like to thank Pat Baulch and Marjorie McLean who each month photocopy, assemble and mail out the newsletter.

Doug Holmes
