NEWSLETTER

January/February edition

Dear Members and Friends,

I would like to thank those who helped to make our January Cemetery Walks such a success - both financially and socially. It was good to see those who had attended our walks last year, and also those who attended because they had heard that an interesting time was to be had. When I spoke at the graveside of William Sharrock who lost his life when the Nestor sank in 1921, I mentioned two known survivors. Peter McWhinney, husband of an early member, Wendy, said that his mother had been on the Nestor and she was still alive.

Later in the walk we visited the grave site of Jabez Higgins, and not to be outdone, Wendy said that he was an ancestor of hers, and that while Corio was conducted as a hospital by Sister Earle, she had been born there. Special thanks to Ron Cumming, Doug Holmes, Lucy Toohey, Pat Stephenson and my youngest daughter Marcie who all helped with the organization on the days of the Walks.

SEMINAR TO BE HELD 15TH MAY, 1999

WITH AN IRISH THEME

Preparations are well in hand for our Seminar to be held on the above date at the Warrnambool Fire Brigade Conference Centre.

FURTHER DETAILS NEXT MONTH

GREETINGS

LEADING LIGHTS. This is the title given by our member Elizabeth Douglas (O'Callaghan) to her book which was launched on Saturday 28 November 1998 at Flagstaff Hill Maritime Museum. It is the story of Warrnambool's Lighthouses and Lighthouse Keepers and is the culmination of many hours devoted to researching and collating the history of our lighthouses and the personal stories of the men involved. Those interested in maritime history or fascinated by the sea and lighthouses in general will derive much pleasure and interest from this attractively presented book which is obtainable from Flagstaff Hill and local newsagents and bookshops.

Congratulations, Elizabeth.

I am sorry to record that Anne Gallagher, an inaugural member of the A.I.G.S. in Warrnambool is now a resident of the Warrnambool Nursing Centre and will probably not be able to join in our meetings and activities. She has been a very loyal member over the years and has missed very few of our gatherings.

1999 is now well underway but perhaps it is not too late to hope that it will bring many good things your way - some exciting genealogical discoveries perhaps!
